Terrific Time

We have been working SO hard with time. It has been a challenge for many but with hard work, motivation, and determination we are getting there!

(Proud Teacher)

Next stop... DIGITAL TIME!

This week for 'Homework' I have asked the children to really practise telling the time at home. The more we look at clocks and watches, the easier it will become. Please encourage your child/children to be telling the time at home- we have had great fun with making games and 'clock times'.

Below are some great websites to support when telling the time.

What a wonderful afternoon celebrating Bastille Day (early!).
French games, French food, French dancing and art!

We extremely excited to show case
our summer production on Monday 15th July and Tuesday 16th July.
The children are all working hard!

We are still a few costumes down, please can we ask for these to be in school for Monday (We have an 'inhouse' dress rehearsal on Tuesday)

The children have created the most incredible narrative this week! I was blown away by their confidence with wider punctuation and their choice of vocabulary.
Well done Willow, BEST piece of writing this year!
